New Study Explores the Connection Between Housing Disparities and Health Care Access

The California Civil Rights Department (CRD) is proud to have sponsored the UCLA Center for Health Policy Research's new study on housing and health care during the COVID-19 pandemic. The findings inform CRD's efforts to protect civil rights in California. Among the findings: In 2021, millions of California adults had trouble paying for housing, faced housing instability, or cut back on healthcare, and this was especially true for those who were renters, low-income, Black or African American, Latino, LGBTQ, or noncitizens.
